New Offer Opens Way To Terms

Extend Deadline Until Monday As Progress Is Made

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers called off a strike set for 10 a.m. today at General Motors plants after a new offer by the company appeared to have cleared the way for a settlement of the union's key benefit demands.

Beaming with pleasure, UAW President Walter P. Reuther announced nearly seven hours before the strike deadline that it had been extended until 10 a.m. Monday. He said substantial progress was made during the night on broad economic issues.

Reuther joined with GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton in announcing a second extension of the old contract "in the light of significant progress made at the bargaining table during the night."

Before going into their night session, UAW and GM negotiators were urged in telegrams from President Kennedy to make "an all-out effort to achieve a just settlement." Mr. Kennedy told Reuther and Seaton "our country at this juncture in our affairs can ill afford a shutdown in this important segment of our economy."

Seaton said the extension until Monday was not requested by Washington but "was agreed upon in the bargaining room."

Reuther said the President's message obviously had an effect on negotiations. He told newsmen "We had been working very hard before we received it; we were a little more conscious of our responsibilities afterward."

Reuther declared the night session made "real progress toward meeting the needs of GM workers."

Reuther Tuesday declared there would be no extension of the strike deadline unless GM agreed to give the same benefits provided in the recent settlement with American Motors Corp. Reuther dropped a demand for the AMC profit-sharing plan.

The UAW chief was grimly militant Tuesday but today he told reporters he felt "very good, in fact delighted" over the company's concessions.

Convicted As Spy

Father Is Ready to Plead With Khrushchev for Son

ASHBURNHAM, Mass. (AP)—The father of Marvin William Makinen, 22, sentenced by a Soviet military court to eight years in prison for spying, says he is ready to make a personal plea to Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

"I will do whatever I can to help bring my son back to the United States," William J. Makinen, 47, the father, said Tuesday night.

"If it comes to the point where my wife and I feel we should go to Russia and plead with Khrushchev for my boy's release, we will work it out somehow. It's a question of money. If I have to go I don't know how I'll scrape it up."

"I'll see the President if that will help," Makinen told a reporter.

Young Makinen was sentenced after a two-day trial in Kiev, the Soviet government paper Izvestia said. He had been recruited by American intelligence agents while a student at the Free University in West Berlin, trained in cameras and codes for six weeks and sent as a tourist into Hungary, Czechoslovakia and the Ukraine to make pictures and notes, the paper said.

In Washington, a State Department press officer denied Makinen is a spy. He said the American Embassy in Moscow has demanded that U.S. officials be permitted to see Makinen.

Makinen's father said he never heard of his son doing intelligence work for the United States.

The son was awarded a Fulbright scholarship last year for study in West Berlin. He had planned to attend the medical school at the University of Pennsylvania this fall.

Rumor Four Guard Units On Standby

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four National Guard divisions are being put on notice they may be called to active duty, it was learned today.

Informed sources said the divisions are the Massachusetts 26th Infantry, the Pennsylvania 28th Infantry, a Wisconsin infantry division and a Texas armored division.

Official word was expected later in the day.

In addition to the four divisions, it was understood some 400 miscellaneous Guard and Reserve units would be put on similar notice.

Military sources said this was not in the nature of an actual alert indicating call-up in the near future, but that it gave the units notice they were priority formations for a call-up.

Free Hand to Works Board On the Water Department

Ordinance On Control Repealed

By D. Kelly Scruton

The City Council Tuesday night gave the Sedalia Board of Public Works a free hand in the operation of the Sedalia Water Department, when the Council repealed the ordinance passed putting the Board under its control in the purchase of real estate and rate raises. The vote on the ordinance was passed on a unanimous vote.

Prior to the reading of the ordinance Councilman Raymond Roberts brought up the meeting between the Board of Public Works and the City Council members at the Water Dept. Monday night, Aug. 28. He explained that it was not the Board's request the motion for repealing the ordinance was made, but during the discussion the Board presented problems the Council couldn't well agree on, and Councilman Roberts said, "I felt like we should turn the control back to the Board. I made the motion to relinquish the power of the Council and give it back to the Board." He then said, "I make the motion again."

Councilman Lawrence Koeller took the floor and said he would second the motion, as Councilman Roberts had presented it.

Councilman Jack Cunningham remarked about the repeal, "As I felt about the matter, we didn't agree on procedures."

The motion was passed on a voice vote by the Council.

Councilman Roberts then asked for a roll call vote on his motion and all eight Councilmen voted for the motion again.

Later in the meeting when various ordinances were being brought up for passage, City Clerk Ralph Dedrick read an ordinance repealing the ordinance passed limiting the powers of the Board of Public Works on purchase of real estate and rate setting.

After the second reading, E. B. Smith, pro-tem in the absence of Mayor Abe Silverman, who is in New York because of the death of his brother, Sam Stedman, read a letter from the Board of Public Works, signed by Paul Hedderick, chairman of the Board. The letter was addressed to Mayor Silverman.

Educator's Survey Shows

Support for Junior College Seen In Mid-State County

A shifting population in a 21-county central Missouri area has been cited as the reason only one of the counties meets recommended minimum requirements for a junior college.

Pettis County was one of 20 counties in the district serviced by Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, found lacking in junior college raw materials in a graduate study made by Vergil E. Oglevie, Green Ridge educator.

Oglevie prepared the study as a partial requirement for his educational specialist degree from CMSC.

Results of the study are particularly relevant to this area as the possibilities of a junior college for Sedalia have been discussed here for some time.

Criteria which might be used in establishing junior colleges in the district, according to Oglevie's study, include a minimum junior college enrollment of 400 in a community having a high school enrollment of 1200 students. The criteria indicate a need for a minimum assessed valuation of 25 million dollars. The maximum commuting time should be one hour.

Oglevie's study shows Jackson County to be the only county in the district meeting recommended minimum requirements for (Please turn to page 2, column 3)

On Ohio Avenue

Property Owners Reject Plan to Resurface Street

The City Council, Tuesday night, at its regular meeting received a petition from property owners on Ohio from 16th to Broadway remonstrating the resurfacing of that street. It is the second time property owners have turned down a proposal by the city to resurface the street and make a change in the street at 12th and Ohio.

In another action the Council recalled the bill for two power propelled mowers for the Sanitation Department. The Council, at its meeting two weeks ago, rejected payment of the bill until further investigation. Councilman Raymond Roberts, chairman of the Sanitation Committee, pointed out Willard Morris, sanitation officer, had overstepped his authority in buying two mowers.

Later it was explained there was a possible misunderstanding over the obtaining of two mowers when sometime ago it was discussed it unwise to transport mowers from one plant to another.

On a voice vote to approve payment of $500 for the two mowers it was seven to one. Councilman George Bryant voting no.

The Council heard two reports from the Zoning and Planning Commission with regard to their denying the requests to rezone property on the south side of Broadway between Limit and State Fair Blvd. at their recent meeting.

Councilman Jack Cunningham asked if any of the petitioners were present who cared to speak. He said he understood a majority of the property owners in the area wanted it rezoned. None of the petitioners were present in the audience.

A request of Raymond Pirtle, L. D. Garrison and Mrs. Marie Mothersbaugh to have curb and guttering on the east side of Missouri Avenue between 22nd and 23rd Streets, constructed under private contract was approved.

A loading dock on Kentucky in the 100 block north was discussed but no final action was decided.

Tests to Start In a Few Weeks

Aim Is to Improve Weapons Now In Hands of US Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lifting its three-year lid on atomic tests, the United States will set off underground nuclear explosions in the next few weeks to develop more advanced weapons.

"We have no other choice," President Kennedy announced Tuesday after getting word of the Soviet Union's third atomic blast in five days.

Committee Nod On Funds For Atomic Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—A speed-up in nuclear weapons tests was urged by the House Appropriations Committee today as it approved $2,352,601,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission.

President Kennedy announced Tuesday the United States will resume underground and laboratory atomic tests. The committee earmarked $30 million of the AEC's new money for the weapons testing programs.

The funds, for use during the fiscal year that started July 1, include $591.2 million for weapons development and $557,493,000 for special nuclear materials. The total is only $6,799,000 less than Kennedy requested and $98,609,000 below last year's appropriations.

Funds for the AEC were included in an over-all $3,662,548,500 bill that also carries financing for the rivers and harbors and flood control programs, the Reclamation Bureau, and several government power programs. Its total fell $69,489,000 below the President's requests and was $110,776,805 under last year's appropriations.

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Undergoing Checkup

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, 76, has entered Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center for a general checkup that should take several days, her secretary says.

The American tests will start this month. Authorities indicated the first explosions will be small by atomic standards.

The aim: (1) to improve battlefield arms like those now in the hands of U. S. troops in Europe and (2) to gain know-how for anti-missile rockets.

Because they will be below ground and in laboratories the U. S. tests will not produce the fallout of radioactive air particles potentially dangerous to all life. Kennedy still held open last

Underground Tests Could Be Made Within a Month

NEVADA TEST SITE, (AP)—An underground nuclear test blast probably could be set off here within a month.

That is the estimate of observers close to test site headquarters. Atomic Energy Commission spokesmen are more than ordinarily close-mouthed, but bustling activity belies their silence.

It is evident to those who know the area that this activity has been stepped up materially since the resumption of Soviet nuclear tests and President Kennedy's authorization of renewed testing in laboratories and underground in the United States.

It has also been known for some time that the AEC was preparing to resume, upon short notice, its experimental program at this 48 by 28-mile site 65 miles north of Las Vegas, Nev.

Official comment was confined to an AEC statement from Albuquerque, N.M., that it is "doing those things necessary to implement the President's announcement."

outlawing tests in the atmosphere. John J. McCloy, the U. S. disarmament administrator, planned to meet in New York today with Valerian Zorin, Soviet ambassador to the United Nations, to resume talks on setting up a multinational disarmament conference.

Kennedy's announcement drew applause from Congress, where many members of both parties have been calling for a resumption of U. S. tests and dismay from non-Western foreign capitals, where the Soviets have been criticized for ending their atomic moratorium.

Disarmay also was registered by Japan, target of America's World War II atomic bombing. Foreign Minister Zenaro Kosaka strongly urged the United States not to carry out the tests. He said "we have long considered, from the humanitarian view, that the ban on nuclear weapon tests is the first step toward the abolition of nuclear weapons as a whole."

The President's decision, announced by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger late Tuesday, swept away a ban adopted by the United States when the U.S.-British-Soviet parley on a treaty to forbid nuclear testing began in November 1958. The last U. S. test was Oct. 30, 1958, in Nevada.

For Bombing-Navigation

WAFB Crews to Take Part In Annual Skill Contest

Four crews of the 340th Air Refueling Squadron at Whiteman AFB will participate in Strategic Air Command's thirteenth annual Bombing-Navigation Refueling Competition at Fairchild AFB, Wash., Sept. 16-22.

Brig. Gen. Robert H. Strauss, commander, 17th Air Division, and 340th Air Refueling Squadron Commander Lt. Col. Joseph J. Young will observe this year's competition.

SAC's top combat crews chosen after grueling preliminaries, within the command's three numbered Air Forces, Second, Eighth and Fifteenth, learned today the virtual "Needles-In-A-Haystack" they are expected to find on their radar scopes as the nation sleeps during their missions to be flown the night of Sept. 17-19.

The four following targets to be "attacked" by simulated bomb drops from low altitudes are a geographical point three miles northwest of the Sioux Ordnance Depot near Sidney, Neb. The top center of a grain elevator in Gurley, Nebraska; and two geographical points near Rhame, N. D.

Targets to be aimed at from high altitudes are: The top center of the control tower at Geiger Field, Spokane, Wash.; and a geographical point five miles south of Reardon, Wash.

Each of the 24 bomber crews will hit four of the above targets on each mission. Bombing accuracy will be determined by radar bomb scoring units located in the target area.

Thirty-six tanker crews will refuel the bombers during their missions before the bomb run.

The courses which the B-52 and B-47 jet bombers will fly is approximately 5,000 statute miles. The crews will scramble to the airfield from an alert posture on "A No Notice" basis, simulating actual combat procedures.

Bank Counsel Post Offered John English

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—John English, Democratic state chairman, is reported to be the choice for general counsel of the Exchange National Bank in Jefferson City.

Lester Cox, Springfield businessman and political ally of Gov. John M. Dalton, and William A. Borders of St. Louis disclosed recently they have acquired 40 per cent of the Exchange National stock.

The move was regarded in political circles as a threat to the long-time dominance of the Central Missouri Trust Co. in Democratic affairs and the rich state government business.

English had no comment on the general counsel report. He was the governor's choice for the job of state chairman last year.

Dalton Reveals Membership Of Two Committees

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Membership of a new Water Resources Board and the Governor's Committee on Local Government were made public today by Gov. John M. Dalton.

The Water Resources Board, to become effective Oct. 13, will study the need for a long range program for the state. It will report to the governor and legislature at regular intervals.

Dalton named these men to the permanent board:

Joe Snyder, Democrat, Gallatin newspaper publisher; Haysler A. Poague, Democrat, Clinton attorney and conservationist; Earl R. Schultz, Republican, chief engineer of the Little River Drainage District at Cape Girardeau; W. W. Johnson, Republican, Springfield retired contractor; A. J. Stephens, Democrat, Kansas City businessman.

They will choose their own officers and hire an executive director at up to $10,000 a year. The board also can employ engineers and other personnel.

Missouri does not have a water law. Consequently streams may be used by abutting owners to any extent so long as they do not injure their downstream neighbors.

Ancient Greeks Had Idea Similar to Peace Corps

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Those ancient and remarkable Greeks thought of everything.

They even had their own version of a Peace Corps.

Dr. John F. Latimer, professor of classics and associate dean of faculties at George Washington University, said today a somewhat similar idea was first thought of five centuries before Christ.

"And, my soul," Latimer said, "it worked."

None of these old Greeks ever went to Harvard, but they decided, just as President Kennedy was to decide 2,400 years later, that young men should perform an act of service for the public good.

Naturally, they had a word for it. They called this institution "Leitourgia," which means a public service, and a derivation of this word is still with us in "liturgy," a rite prescribed for public worship.

No comparison can be pressed too far, and this is no exception. The Greeks thought service should mean that the young men would contribute not only their time and talents but also their money. This limited Leitourgia to the wealthy.

Nor did the Greeks have eager young ladies racing out to do their bit. With all their pioneer thinking—a misogynist might say possibly because of it—the Greeks had little room for women in their great plans.

Nor were the jobs to be done exclusively for peace.

Indeed, one chore was the exact opposite. A wealthy young man could equip a ship for war.

Or he could train competitors for the gymnasium contests.

Or, if artistically inclined, he could fix up a chorus for musical competitions for the great public festivals.

Or he could superintend the sacred embassies to the four great national festivals, or to Delos and the other holy places, an operation, Latimer believes, that closely parallels the spirit of the Peace Corps.

Incidentally, classical languages have no more ardent public relations man than Latimer, who for years has been insisting that the position U.S. education should adopt is not science vs. the classic, but science plus the classics.

A president of the American Classical League, he's pleased to report: Latin in high school and classics in college have been holding their own in the past 10 years and a little more than their own in the past four or five years.

Latimer can't reassure dubious congressmen that the Peace Corps will work. But, he can say, it worked fine with the Greeks.

"These young men did perform needed public services, at home and abroad," he said. "And, my soul, they set a good example for all citizens to follow."

New TV Star Represents Good Forces

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The NBC announcement of the premiere of its new action series, "Cain's Hundred," reads as follows: "Shattered when his fiancée is murdered by the underworld syndicate for which he works, lawyer Nicholas Cain sets out to destroy (the) mob chief."

And, starting Sept. 19, off we'll go, following Nick Cain's career of vengeance—one of the oldest, time-tested plot devices in literary history.

Paul Monash, creator and producer of the series, deliberately created Cain in a familiar, classic mold, even providing his character with a name of Biblical significance.

"He's a Byronic hero," explained the man who wrote the first episodes of "The Untouchables." "Cain is the synthesis of the forces of good. And he is, of course, completely unrealistic. Nobody could go around the country smashing one facet of organized crime per week."

Cain may be a creature of fiction, but he has some close relatives, also fictitious, delighting the television viewers season after season.

Closest to him in spirit if not costume (Cain will be a natty dresser) is Paladin, the lone, grim-visaged, dark-suited avenger of CBS' perennial "Have Gun, Will Travel." Then, of course, there's ABC's Eliot Ness of "The Untouchables" whose adventures have been largely fiction since, early in the series, he and his loyal band were credited with bringing in the notorious Barker gang.

Frank Pierson, producer of "Have Gun" traces the ancestry of his Paladin (another symbolic name, meaning legendary hero) back to the Greeks of Homer's day, to Odysseus and Achilles.

The trick, of course, is to set the classic figure in interesting backgrounds. Paladin rights wrongs in the old West; Ness, in the Chicago of the prohibition era. Cain will tackle 1961-62 soft spots.

"In feeling my way into the series," said Monash, "I found that Cain was reflecting an entirely new era in crime when compared with Ness and the 1920s. It is much less violent, much more subtle, and modern masters of organized crime are unlikely to try to settle things by killing. It is big business, much too well entrenched to take such foolish and dangerous chances."

Monash, while following a popular path in this season's action shows, is making no excuses for his series.

"We're just trying to do shows that I would enjoy watching," he said. "That means strong dramas with a great deal of sentiment—melodramas with heart—whose practical purpose is entertainment for the viewing public. Personally, I think most TV documentaries are pretty boring."

Monash makes no excuses for television, either.

"We're turning out every six days one show that is two-thirds as long as the average motion picture," he said. "I think the level of acting, writing and producing is pretty high when you think of the conditions under which we work."

LEICESTER, England (AP) — Every time a No. 28 bus passed along Clarendon Park Road Monday it slowed to a walk.

Philosophical Fallout

A current debate centers about the question: "Is it permissible, in the event of a nuclear war, for me to shoot down my neighbor if he tries to enter my fallout shelter when, by entering, he may cause both my death and his own?"

Those who oppose the increasing propaganda for a nationwide fallout shelter program point out, however, that the question is incomplete from their viewpoint. The real question is: "Is my life so precious and important that I would wish to buy its continued existence with the life of another human being?"

It goes beyond that, they say: "Is America so much in the right, so chosen of God, that it can contemplate basing its continued existence upon the terrible deaths of millions of human beings?"

Forget the damage to our property, say certain pacifists. Think of the damage to our souls—to our national soul. Would we be able to rationalize away the sheer horror of a nuclear-devastated world in the name of necessity and self-defense? Would America—that is, the military, the button-pushers, the shelter-builders who would then constitute America—would America then bequeath to the world a new birth of freedom? With martial law?

Tell that to the Communists, others say. Tell THEM not to build shelters. Try appealing to THEIR finer sentiments.

Yes, but we are supposed to be nobler than the Communists, is the answer from the other side. Let the destruction of the world, if they wish it, be their burden, not ours.

"Better Red than dead," eh?, the argument continues.

No. Better alive than dead, is the reply that comes to that one. For the victory of freedom requires living men who can be free, or who can hope and dream of freedom. Not corpses. We do not contemplate capitulation. By all means, they say, let us maintain our readiness and make it plain to Russia's masters that we will fight with everything we have if they attack us.

On the other hand, they continue, to say "better dead than Red" is to deny that men ever rose from the condition of the beasts, to deny that one slave's chains were ever broken. It is to say that we have reached the end of the road, that our "freedom" is an accident and has no real strength beyond our weapons, that our only hope is war.

Nonsense, says the other side. The American Revolution was achieved in blood. The patriots' "chains" were broken by killing.

Yes, comes back the counter-argument, but not with atomic bombs, involving the deaths of innocent millions. Not at the expense of the genetic health of their descendants. Not with the equivalent of suicide.

Surely freedom is a power greater than any bombs, greater than Russian communism's ideology, they go on. To embark upon a massive shelter program would be to give token to the world that we have lost faith in the idea of freedom as a moral force.

And surely, these people say, the more shelters we build, the more we will welcome war finally as a logical extension of diplomacy, as the "ultimate solution."

To climax the argument they say: Rather, let us individuals and as a nation, courageously abjure this program as proof of our complete commitment to peace.

This is the thinking of some of those who are frightened by the growing "fallout shelter psychosis." Who shall balance the two sides—the pacifists and the practicalists—and determine the course our nation should take?

Soviet Imitates U. S. Farm Methods

(EDITOR'S NOTE:—Drew Pearson has returned from the Soviet Union, but the following column, written before he left Moscow, was delayed in transit.)

By DREW PEARSON

MOSCOW—If imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, the Russians have paid us many compliments by imitating our automobiles, our airplanes, our vending machines, and our jazz. Their sincerest compliment, however, is in the imitation of our agricultural methods.

Here they have frankly and enthusiastically followed many of our farm methods, and with equal frankness have published figures showing that they are behind.

No matter what the National Manufacturers Association may say about congressional benefits voted the American farmer, no matter what Soviet leaders may say about their supremacy in space, the horny-handed American farmer has won both supremacy over the Soviet and Soviet respect.

To learn something about Soviet farming, I drove outside Moscow to a state farm, Bela Dacha, established in the hunting preserve of a Czarist nobleman, Prince Galitzen. It is part of a ring of farms which Premier Khrushchev plans to circle every Russian City to supply it with food.

It was not a show place, but a well-run, very productive food factory on only about 75 acres which turned out 65,000 hogs a year, operated an efficient dairy, and grew vegetables under 10 acres of glass.

The hogs were fed state-owned garbage from state-owned restaurants, which was mixed under steam pressure with corn, vitamins, and other grain, then pumped in pipes to the individual hog barns, thereby saving a lot of labor. Each barn housed 2,000 hogs and was in the charge of one woman.

The state-owned hogs seemed to like their state-owned diet, for they were gaining weight at about the same rate as on any good Iowa hog farm.

Quite A Cow

Bela Dacha also operated a dairy herd very much in the manner of dairies around Los Angeles and Miami where space is too cramped for grazing and the cows are kept in feed lots night and day.

I got some good-natured kidding from Alexei Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia and son-in-law of Khrushchev, when I told him that my cow barn in Maryland was cleaner than that at Bela Dacha. While this was true, I must confess that the 100 Holsteins in the Bela Dacha milking chain would have made Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia, who owns fine milking herds, envious.

The queen of the herd, "Midverska" or "Female Bear," was a beautiful seven-year-old Holstein producing 980 kilos (2,156 pounds) of butterfat in 1960 with an average of 4.5. She is the daughter of "Kronenville," a bull imported from England, which by artificial insemination has sired about 10,000 calves in the last two years.

Alexander Polunin, manager of Bela Dacha, whose original ambition was to be a jockey but has been running farms for 22 years, told me that no matter what the temperature in mid-winter, his cows got one hour of exercise outside the barn twice a day. This is a question constantly debated by American dairy farmers: also between me and my dairy manager, Ivor Taylor. He believes in the Russian theory that a cow can take cold weather—and he usually wins the argument. Moscow winters, incidentally, frequently remain below zero.

The third part of the Bela Dacha state farm was a huge greenhouse for vegetables covering 10 acres. The cucumber crop was just being harvested and tomato plants being set out, two women doing the work in each hothouse.

I asked Polunin, who obviously knows his onions as well as his cucumbers and tomatoes, how he could afford to build and heat so much acreage under glass for growing ordinary vegetables. He explained that the hot water was piped in as surplus from a nearby state factory and that Russian winters were so severe that it was difficult to raise vegetables safely in the north. Meanwhile vegetables were in big demand in Moscow and his greenhouse operation made a profit last year of $5,500,000, he said.

Profiting From USA

Out in the "new land" of Asiatic Russia, they are profiting from American mistakes. This is the area which the Soviet's "No. 1 agronomist," Nikita Khrushchev, wants to turn into the Soviet breadbasket. The area has one great handicap—lack of rain. It gets no more rain than our western great plains which at times have been a disaster area because of the "dust bowl."

To prevent a dust bowl in central Asia, the Soviet has imported American and Canadian machinery which cut under the soil without disturbing its surface, a system used in eastern Colorado and western Kansas called "stubble mulch." So far the Soviet farms have used it successfully in this virgin territory to raise around 12 bushels of wheat per acre.

The most significant aspect of Soviet agriculture, however, is revealed in official Soviet figures. They show 54,600 collective farms and 6,500 state farms with an average respectively, of 13.684 and 58,000 acres each.

Against this, according to the same Soviet figures, there are 4,785,000 individual American farmers with farms averaging 220 acres each. And the horny-handed individual American farmer has been able to outproduce Soviet farms by about 30 per cent.

Soviet production figures show how he has done it—by raising 21.1 bushels of wheat per acre against 16.3 bushels of Soviet wheat; and 59.4 bushels of corn per acre against 22 bushels of Soviet corn.

These are Soviet figures and the Soviet government has published them to spur up their own agriculture. American defense experts who for a long time declared we were ahead in missiles might take a leaf from this book.

Matters of Degree

The U.S. Office of Education estimates that about 10,500 doctorates were granted in this country during the 1960-61 academic year. They represented every field of study from agriculture to sociology. The figure contrasts with 700 Ph.D.'s awarded in Russia in each of the last two years.

No comparison can be made between the two, however, since the Russian doctorate is on a much higher level than ours. Besides requiring an original discovery in a new field, recipients must have taught for 10 to 15 years. Not surprisingly, their average age is 45.

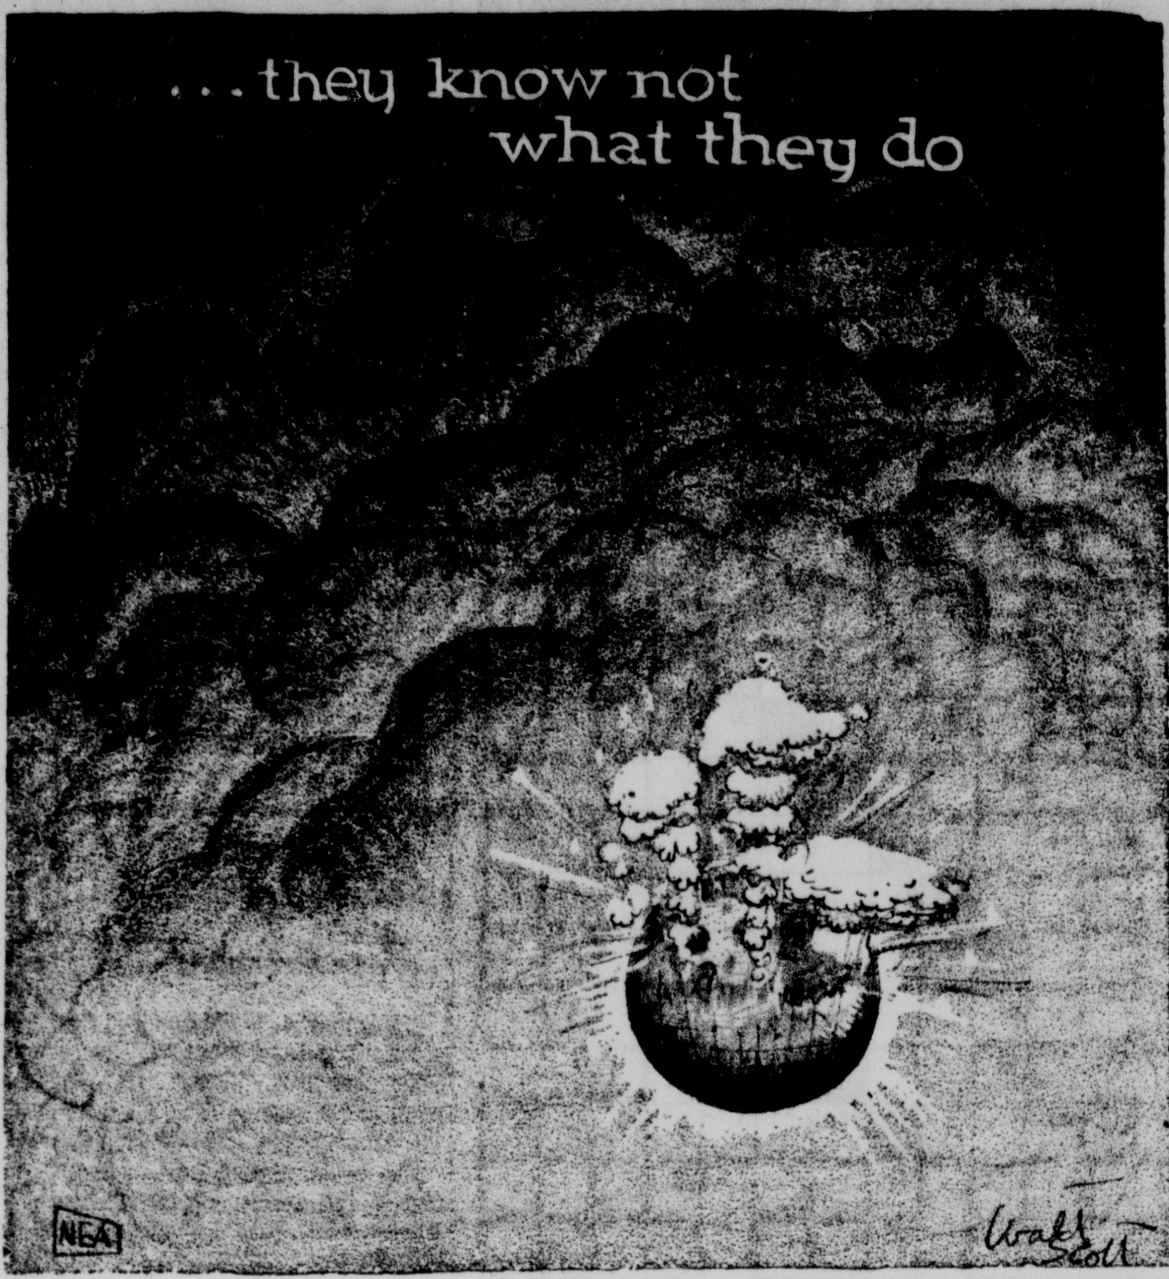

In addition, Russian universities have a "candidate of science" degree, of which 7,000 were awarded to graduate students last year. This is slightly lower than the American Ph.D., but more advanced than the master's degree.

NEW YORK TIMES: Smoke From Autos.—A federal warning to automobile makers to promise to install control devices against air pollution on 1964 cars or face compulsion by Congress has come from Secretary Ribicoff. He insists that the automobile industry come up with a voluntary pledge by January to make anti-pollution "blow-by" devices standard equipment. For some time the government has been putting pressure on the manufacturers, but this is the first time a deadline has been set. The blow-by devices reportedly reduce exhaust pollution by as much as 30 per cent.

Fashion Show By Nonaligned Nations

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The meeting of the 25 so-called neutral nations—they call themselves nonaligned—was more than just nonsensational. It was a mixture of power, lack of power, and hypocrisy.

These 25 nations represented at the Belgrade meeting have a total population of 740 million people. So they do represent to some extent a broad section of world opinion when they denounce the West for colonialism or the remnants of it.

In this sense they have moral force.

But it was hypocritical for them not to denounce Russia and Red China for the same offense. They spent no time complaining about the bondage in which Russia holds the European satellites or China the Tibetans.

Speaker after speaker expressed shock at the Russian decision to resume nuclear testing. But this was where their basic ineffectiveness as a group showed through — their fear of war between the United States and Russia and their inability to do anything about it except urge both sides not to start it.

They had a wretched time even trying to agree on a final resolution expressing the wishes of the 25. In short, at this time the 25 have a tough time agreeing among themselves.

This group, anti-colonial, is all for self-determination of peoples. This is where the hypocrisy was at its worst when kings and princes sat shoulder to shoulder with revolutionaries.

In this group were leaders who, in dealing with their own people at home—used dictatorship or worse. For instance: Ethiopia, Ghana, Saudi Arabia, Yugoslavia.

In Yugoslavia, of course, it is the Communist party, under President Tito, which dominates and permits no opposition.

But the kingdoms of Ethiopia and Saudi Arabia are so far from permitting freedom or self-determination for their own people that they are truly medieval in wind up annihilating each other.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. Homer Hancock, 1307 South Kentucky, entertained for her little daughter, Bernadeen on the occasion of her birthday. Guests were: Billy Middleton, Betty and Lydia Gerster, Billy and Cecil Lee Swift, Sonny Klink, Donald Gene Poundstone, Gordon Capes, Melva Jean Robinson, Wilma Ruth Shelton, Margaret Jo Kahrs, Virginia Lindstrom, Rosalie Gardner, El-neta Marshall and Mary Jane Scotten.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Levi Epstein and Coby Bloch wholesale liquor dealers, have retired from the firm of Epstein and Bloch and the business formerly owned by them at 213-217 South Osage avenue now belongs to Emil Epstein, Herman Bloch and Eugene Sullivan, all of whom have been associated with the business in past years. The business was established in 1883 by Peter Pehl who sold to Epstein and Bloch on July 1, 1909.

their special brands of tyranny. Ghana, under President Nkrumah, uses police-state methods to keep the people in line.

It was India's Prime Minister Nehru who acknowledged the inability of the nonaligned to do more than urge. He said "we cannot order about great countries, or even small ones. But let us use our moral strength rightly."

The Belgrade meeting was all for disarmament. But if that is ever achieved it will hardly be the result of pressure from the 25 nations which got together this week.

It will be the result of a decision by the United States and Russia that if they don't disarm they'll

It is possible that in years to come the ranks of the 25 non-aligned nations will grow, that they'll have more in common than they do now, and that they will be able to replace some of their present selfishness.

But at this moment such a meeting is hardly more than a convenient forum for some individual leaders to sound a little nobler in theory than they are in practice.

All in all this conference wasn't much more than a fashion show where some of the small big-shots with all expenses paid, could wear their fancy costumes. More than half of them wore their national dress.

Improper Posture Leads To All Sorts of Aches

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—If I do a day's sewing, I get the worst ache on the right side of my back. In the morning it is all right again. Could I be getting arthritis?

A—Arthritis is a disease of the joints and there's no joint just below the shoulder blade. Your pain is probably postural. Try sitting in a solid armchair and rest your right elbow on the support while you're sewing.

Q—A dear 80-year-old lady, an ex-schoolteacher, is being driven mad by a dry mouth that hasn't responded to any type of treatment known to the various clinics she's attended. She says it makes it impossible for her to get a night's sleep. She reads your column religiously and if you could suggest something to help her, you'd be doing a great service to a really lovely person and to those of us who dearly love her.

A—Why don't you observe her during sleep? If her jaw sags and her mouth opens when she dozes off, that may be the key to her distress. If that's so, tell her to keep her dentures in at night and provide her with a cap whose chin straps prevent her jaw from sagging. Then she'll breathe mostly through her nostrils rather than her mouth.

Q—I am 38 years old. Nine months ago I weighed 217 pounds. My doctor put me on a 1,000-calory diet and told me I had to get down to 135 pounds or he wouldn't be responsible for what might happen to me. I was real scared and dieted carefully. At the end of five months I was down to 155. I never felt better in my life and I've continued the diet but I haven't lost a pound in the past few months. What can I do to lose the rest of the weight? And how important is it for me to weigh just what my doctor figured?

A—I think you've done remarkably well. And I imagine your doctor would be quite content if you maintained your present weight, provided that you are otherwise well. Each of us has what athletes call "fighting weight." By that is meant the weight at which we feel in prime condition. That's why fighters are, in weight classes. Usually when a fighter in one class tries to box in a class higher or lower he is apt to take a beating. My guess is that 155 is your prime. And I hope you've got the stick-to-itiveness to maintain it.

Q—Is it possible to cure or even help asthma attacks by sleeping with a chow-wow-wow dog? I've heard that the dog "takes" the asthma and get attacks similar to those of humans. Then the victim is relieved and eventually cured. Did you ever hear of this?

A—Until this moment, I thought I'd heard everything. But this takes the prize. No, I never heard of it before—and hardly can believe I just did!

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

What They Say

Letters to Editor

H. B. POTTS, (235 South Quincy) — In Sunday's Democrat I read an article by Drew Pearson which in my opinion is one of the greatest pieces of Communist propaganda I have seen. This article is an insult to every patriotic American. It is not necessary to read further than the first paragraph.

How could Mr. Khrushchev be a REAL friend to anyone? A man who takes off his shoes and hammers tables at the United Nations. A man who, every time he speaks, talks of burying the United States. I wonder why Pearson thinks President Kennedy or the United States even want such a character as a friend.

Is Pearson a Communist? If not, was he just sucked in by Khrushchev? Or is he plain stupid?

One thing for sure he has to be stupid for even while he was writing this flowery praise of Khrushchev, what does his real friend do? Even before Pearson's ink gets dry his real friend explodes an atomic bomb. How will Drew Pearson explain that one?

Nehru's German 'Solution' Like Pot-Kettle Parable

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — Full text of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's speech to the Indian parliament on the Berlin crisis provides opportunity for an interesting exercise. Take Nehru's remarks on the dispute of East vs. West on Germany and apply the same sentiments to the subject of Kashmir—which India and Pakistan can't settle—and see how they look.

There isn't space here to give the whole speech, of course. But this is how excerpts from the Prime Minister's speech would read if Kashmir is substituted for Berlin, India is substituted for East Germany, Pakistan for West Germany.

To make it easy to follow in the deliberate misquotations below, the substituted word is printed in single quotation marks, followed by the original word in parenthesis.

"Now undoubtedly the major trouble spot or area of the world today, which has a very intimate relationship to the possibility of war or the continuance of peace is the question of 'Pakistan' (West Berlin) and 'India' (East Germany)."

"A question like this, or any situation which might lead to war, cannot be dealt with — well — by threats to each other, or by military movements and preparation for war, but primarily by leaders meeting and trying to find some way out."

"Normally one would think that the unification of 'Kashmir' (Germany) is desirable. . . . The way to prevent 'Kashmir' (German) unity is to carry on a cold war in its intensest form."

"Many years ago there was talk of a possible coming together and suggestions were made for . . . what is called disengagement . . . an area where, if they are completely disarmed, they are at least largely disarmed. . . . But we must be clear in our minds that all these problems can be solved by peaceful methods or else there is war. There is no third way."

"The third way may be just prolonging the present agony, carrying it to the verge of neither peace nor war. That, of course, is not a satisfactory way, because you always live on the brink and a false step may make you topple over."

"Now if one wants to avoid war, then the only way is to pursue peaceful methods and by peaceful methods I do not mean that either party gives up its position, but that they must deal with it in a normal manner, whether it is through diplomatic channels or through discussion of these matters. . . ."

"Now normally one would think that some kind of a treaty is desirable 16 years after the war ended."

"I would think that if unification of 'Kashmir' (Germany) is desired, the only way to bring it about peacefully, though perhaps gradually, is to increase various contacts between 'India' (East) and 'Pakistan' (West Germany) — trade contacts and the rest. . . . As it is, the very reverse is being done. The atmosphere of mutual fear is created with the result that no party is going to agree to a single step which it thinks might come in its way in case there is a conflict, which it thinks might affect its prestige."

That's all the space there is for interpolated excerpts from Nehru's impertinent remarks. But these samples are enough to prove that it's always easy to solve other peoples' problems. For anyone else to try to solve YOUR problems by the same formula is nonsense, of course, and none of his business.

The Indian apostle of peace got both feet in hot water by attempting to tell the Communist and Free worlds how to settle the problems of divided Germany. His first statement seemed to favor the Russians.

American Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith then had a long talk with Nehru, and he modified his views somewhat.

But the Indian prime minister is going to Moscow to see Khrushchev on Sept. 6, right after the Belgrade conference of 20 neutral, or nonaligned nations.

Nehru isn't scheduled to come to the United States to see Kennedy till November. In between there is plenty of opportunity for him to say a lot more which can make a bad situation worse.

"What do you want to be when you grow up, Tom?" a father asked his small son.

"A fire engine," came the quick reply.

"You do?" said the father. Then, thinking the child meant he wanted to be a fireman and did not know what they called fire fighters he added: "Well, most little boys want to be firemen."

"Yes, I know," said Tom. "But not me. I want to be a fire engine."

That really set Dad in his place and proves he isn't ever going to get ahead of that kid. If Tom says anything he is going to stick to it, no matter how absurd it is.

But we have a feeling that before Tom reaches the age to set forth on his life's work, his Dad is going to think he is a fire engine. Because he is going to have quite a time keeping up with him.

Being a fire engine isn't a bad goal to set at that. There is nothing that goes faster, makes more noise, creates more interest and stops everything in its path, so it can get where it's going, more than a fire engine. Let all the other little boys grow up to be firemen. They won't be able to do a thing without him.—H. L.

Working on a civic project the man found himself sitting at a table with three women. One of the group commented on it to which he replied: "Oh, I'm always outnumbered by women. You know I have a wife and two daughters and even the new kittens at our house are female."

It may be inconsistent, but the silent man is the one who is worth listening to. —H. L.

Young Ladd Has Father As a Coach

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Alan Ladd says he knows how to deal with child actors—because he learned the hard way.

It's important because Alan is the father of David Ladd, one of the hottest of the juvenile stars.

"He could be working all the time," says his father, "but he only works in the summer vacation. I'll keep him normal or else. He doesn't know how much money he makes — and I'm really training him to be an Olympic diver."

In Alan's youth, he was one of the top divers in Southern California. An injury prevented him from trying out for the 1932 Olympics team.

"That was the greatest disappointment of my life. Now I find that David is an exceptional diver — and I've got three ex-Olympic stars coaching him."

Alan and Mrs. Ladd, the former actress Sue Carol, are trying to give the 14-year-old star of "Misty" and "Dog of Flanders" as near normal a school and home life as possible.

Admittedly, that's hard to do when your father is a star, your mother was one and the family has homes in Holmby Hills, Palm Springs and Lake Arrowhead.

"But there are two things in my favor," says Alan.

"First I started out in this business very poor—even hungry."

"Second, I worked with Brandon de Wilde in 'Shane'."

De Wilde, now grown up, was a child stage star who came to Hollywood for "Shane," the Western movie many believe one of the finest ever.

In the movie, Ladd played a gunslinging Sir Galahad who rode out of nowhere to help a dirt farming family fight off ruthless cattlemen.

"Possibly the most dramatic scene in the picture comes when, my job done, I leave the family to ride off again. I even cried in the scene—something I seldom, if ever, have done."

"The scene was tough enough but everytime I spoke my farewell to Brandon, he crossed his eyes and stuck his tongue out at me."

Ladd, who had scared off all the heavies in the picture, said he couldn't scare Brandon.

"So I called on his dad. I said: 'Make that kid stop or I'll beat

LaMonte Baptist Church to Move To New Building

The LaMonte Baptist church is making plans to move to their new building by the middle of September. Officers and teachers of the church have been selected for the coming church year and the Sunday school is being expanded with a special gospel service each Sunday for the children. Jack Glidewell is the Sunday school superintendent and Forrest Coleman is his associate.

The new building is in the finishing and trim stages and will be entirely furnished with new furniture and equipment.

Each class will have a separate room, there will be a modern kitchen, a new library, a fully equipped office, a pastor's study, dining room, two nurseries and a fellowship and recreation room. The training director for the coming year will be Mrs. Glidewell and plans for church and Christian training for developing the members and friends will be offered.

A former pastor, the Rev. Orval Woolery will return to preach at the Sunday morning service when the church meets for the first time in the new building. J. W. Fischer, Missouri Baptist Brotherhood Executive Secretary, relative and friend of many Pettis County residents will preach the dedicatory sermon in the afternoon. An open house is planned from two to five o'clock in the afternoon.

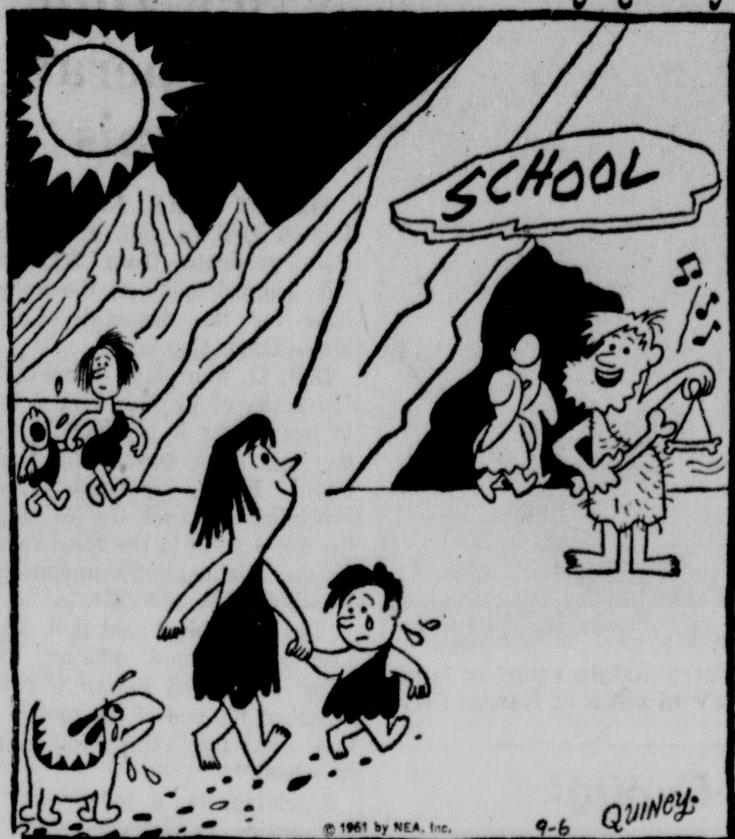

Rev. William Spencer will bring the Sunday evening message to a close on dedication day at the LaMonte Baptist church.

Remarks That Supermarket Clerks Hear Quite Often

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Customer remarks a supermarket clerk gets tired of hearing:

"You don't stock automobile tires? What kind of a grocery store is this?"

"My husband just phoned and said he's bringing three of his bosses home for dinner. Do you have any instant pot roast?"

"Hey, take it easy on that cash register, Jack. Are you ringing up the items I bought — or playing a symphony concert?"

"How come you're charging 35 cents a pound for turkeys? I passed a Supermarket 10 miles down the road that was selling them at 34 1/2 cents."

"So what if my boy did cut off a few of your old boxtops with his knife? He didn't spill any of the cereal, did he?"

"I know my last check bounced, but I'm sure this one is okay. I had my husband sign it, too — just to be certain."

"I'm afraid I'll have to return this two-pound box of cookies. They must be stale or something. I ate half of them after dinner last night — and didn't sleep a wink."

"My husband says he's tired of eating nothing but frozen foods. Do you have a little free booklet or something that tells how to cook food that isn't frozen?"

"Where's the manager? I want to sue him. I just got run over by three teen-agers having a drag race with shopping carts over by the fresh breads section."

"What if I am holding up the line, young man? I'm absolutely positive I have a $10 bill somewhere in my purse — if I can just find the purse. Oh, dear, do you suppose I left it home again?"

"I know this is your rush hour, Jack, but can you take time out to count these 268 empty bottles I'm returning for credit? I'm in a hurry, too."

"Mary Jane, I told you not to unwrap that fish. Now pick it up off the floor and put it back before..."

"Hey, Jack, I made it all the way from the iceberg lettuce to the smoked hams, the mayonnaise, the rye bread, and back here to the checkout counter—in a minute and 12 seconds flat. Is that a new course record?"

New York Opens 7½ Game Bulge

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

That American League is so dominated by the New York Yankees that even youngsters they've traded away are muscling into the record book.

While Mickey Mantle belted his 51st home run and New York opened a 7½-game bulge in the pennant chase with a 6-1 breeze against Washington, Lee Thomas, who started the season with the Yankees, tied the major league record with nine hits in a doubleheader Tuesday night for the Los Angeles Angels.

The rookie outfielder did it with three home runs, one a grand slam; a double and five singles in 11 at bats. It wasn't enough. The Angels lost the two-night pair at Kansas City 7-3 and 13-12.

Second-place Detroit continued a skid out of contention by dropping a 4-1 decision in the completion of Monday's suspended game at Baltimore before the Orioles handed the Tigers their sixth straight loss, 1-0 in the regularly scheduled game.

Chicago and Minnesota played a 3-3 tie in a game called after nine innings because of fog at Minneapolis-St. Paul. Cleveland belted Boston 9-5.

In the National League, Cincinnati won 5-2 at St. Louis and retained a two-game lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who beat San Francisco 4-2. Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 5-4 in 14 innings, and Pittsburgh thumped the Chicago Cubs 8-3.

Thomas, 25, was 5-for-5, with a double and four singles in the first game for the Angels. He ran his consecutive hit streak through seven, with a single and home run, before striking out in the fifth inning of the nightcap. He had eight RBI in the second game. He brought the Angels a 9-9 tie with his sixth-inning slam, and put them ahead with a three-run homer in the eighth.

The A's won that second game on Bobby Del Greco's two-run homer in the ninth off Ken McBride (12-12). A five-run second inning, in which Jerry Lumpe, another ex-Yank hit a three-run homer, wrapped up the opener against Ryne Duren (6-12). Jerry Walker (7-11) and Bob Shaw (10-12) were the winners.

Mantle, after missing two games because of an arm injury, gave the Yanks a 1-1 tie with his second-inning home run off loser Joe McClain (8-16). Elston Howard's 16th homer, in the fifth inning, broke it up and the Yankees then added four more runs, two unearned, in the seventh for their sixth straight success. Right hander Jim Coates (10-5) checked the Senators on four hits as they lost their sixth in a row and 20th of 21.

Mantle stayed even with Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927. Teammate Roger Maris, the major league leader with 53 home runs, was 0-for-4 and now is only four games ahead of Ruth's pace. Maris hasn't had a hit in 15 at bats.

Southpaw Don Mossi (14-5) was the loser, dropping his second successive 1-0 decision when Brooks Robinson doubled in the sixth inning and came around on Jackie Brandt's one-out single through a drawn-in infield.

Burton Bows To Russ Ream In Playoff

The Elm Hills golf tournament is now in full progress with the first round matches in the championship flight completed. Floyd Burton, 1960 champion, bowed in a sudden death playoff to Russ Ream.

Marvin Mallory beat Bill Wilson in a three hole sudden death playoff—a repeat of the same players in a match played in 1960.

Jack Phelps, dark horse of the tournament, defeated Gabby Gerletz 4-3. Walt Hampson over George Thomasetti 7-6. Jack Wilt, in a close match, eliminated Hughie Johnson 2-1. Sam Watson bowed to Fred Hook, 4-3. George Thompson topped Doug Hampson 3-1. Jack Pasley was edged by John Zahringer 2-1.

It was a close one in the "A" flight when Winston Ream barely edged out John Snodgrass, 1-up. Others: Tom Perrin over John Ellison 1-up; Fred Wertz was shaken up by practically a newcomer in Junior Pirtle in their round which saw Wertz finally win 2-up on the last three holes; Al Fabry eliminated Paul Harms 3-2; Bob Fingland edged Fred Cermic in a sudden death playoff on the 19th hole.

Next week Wertz meets Karl Berry; Fabry vs. Bill Watson. "B" flight: Ken Leslie and the 1960 winner Leo Bopp battled right down to the last and lost to Bopp 2-1; Bob Cummins set Tom Nash Sr., back 5-4; Dr. Donald Proctor defeated Ken Jett 3-2 and meets Bob Wall next week.

In the "C" flight Merlin Thorp upset Ralph Epperson 3-1; James Anderson a bye; Bill Renshaw won by a forfeit from Wayne Hicks and Ewing Gibson also drew a bye.

Upsets were numerous in the "D" flight. Mack Kell upset Dr. O. J. Durnell 5-4; Gordon Childers putted his way to a surprising victory over Verrell Martin; while Bill Southwick bested Don Richardson 4-3; and Tom Nash Jr., easily won over Bill Hodges.

The Capitol City motorcycle scrambles race was held at Jefferson City Sunday afternoon with a large field of riders and many spectators. Although thunder clouds were threatening rain, the track was opened for warm-ups in preparation for the time trials.

The track was loose with a lot of dust under a crusty top. As usual, there is always a race or two in the warm-ups and Sedalia Ed Bahner, riding a new Harley-Davidson Sprint, wanted to see what the little bike would do against its competitors. Things were going fine and both bikes were peaking out in each gear on the straightaway, but coming into a hairpin turn the bike just ahead of Bahner spilled and Bahner unavoidably crashed into the tumbling bike, which flipped him end over end. Although both machines were extensively damaged, neither rider was hurt other than bruises and scratches.

After the time trials, the "Trophy Dash" started just as the rain began. John Witte of Sedalia, riding his Harley-Davidson CH took the lead and held it over the

A New Hope In Desperate US Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., (AP)—Donald Dell, a tall, methodical Yale graduate from Bethesda, Md., loomed today as the newest hope for the desperate United States Davis Cup brass.

Dell, 23, who plans to enter the University of Virginia Law School in two weeks if he doesn't hear the call from Davis Cup Capt. David Freed, crushed Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., the No. 6 seed, in the third round of the National Championships Tuesday, 11-9, 10-8, 6-1.

"I'm available," said Dell. "But I've got to know whether I'm being considered before I enter school at the end of the month. If they want me, I'll put off going to school."

Froehling, 19, a fellow with a big service, created something of a sensation during the summer circuit when he reached finals in both the South Orange, N. M., and Merion, Pa., tournaments. He was being hailed as a coming great.

"I hung back behind the baseline," said Dell, of his match with Froehling, "and took his service there. I didn't try to hit it back hard because that would be too risky. I just tried to keep it in play."

"He is very bad on the back hand and he is too tall to get to balls at his feet. He beat a lot of guys this summer on his service."

Dell wasn't bragging. He is a pretty good analyst of the game. He had studied Froehling's weaknesses and practiced his own service a half hour before his match.

Mike Sangster, No. 4, of Britain, and Bob Mark, No. 5, of Australia, were the only other two seeded players to get into action Tuesday. Sangster downed Kingman B. Lambert of Charlottesville, Va., 6-3, 7-9, 6-2, 6-4 and Mark turned back Ronald W. Fisher of Houston, Tex., 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

Chris Crawford, a big blond from Piedmont, Calif., and Crawford Henry of Atlanta, both seeded but tournament dark horses, advanced to the fourth round. Crawford toppled Adrian Bey of Rhodesia, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3, and Henry eliminated Bob Bedard, Canadian Davis cupper, 5-7, 11-13, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2.

In the women's division, the top half of the draw has reached the quarter-finals. Defending champion Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., seeded No. 1, led the parade of favorites with a 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 decision over Judy Alvarez of Tampa, Fla.

Christine Truman, No. 4 of Britain, vanquished Gwyneth Thomas of Shaker Heights, Ohio, 6-3, 6-2; Margaret Smith, No. 5 of Australia, whipped Marian Boundy of Montreal 6-1, 6-0, and Yola Ramirez of Mexico defeated Deirdre Catt of Britain, 6-1, 7-5.

Hitting — Lee Thomas, Angels, tied major league record with nine hits in doubleheader — getting a double and four singles in five trips in the opener and slugging three home runs, one a grand slam, among four hits in the nightcap. Angels lost both games to A's, however, 7-3 and 13-12.

Pitching — Bob Purkey, Reds, struck out seven, walked but two and allowed six hits, after blanking Cards on three hits for eight innings, in 5-2 victory that retained Reds' two-game lead.

Other three top contenders. The storm broke and Witte took the checkered flag in the rain. All other race events had to be canceled for the day.

Sedalia's motorcycle club, The Iron Horsemen, will be holding a "hill climb" Sunday, Sept. 10, with the hopes the rains will be over as the hill is ready and the riders are willing.

Bed Check Lifted Giants Still Lose

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Curfew or no curfew, the Giants shoulda stood in bed.

After getting the bed-check lifted for one night—following a reported $1,950 fine spread over 13 players by Manager Al Dark for curfew violations — once hot San Francisco stumbled to a 10th defeat in 12 games Tuesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Giants 4-2.

It was the sixth success in 8 games for the second-place Dodgers, who stayed within two games of front-running Cincinnati in the National League race, after the Reds beat St. Louis 5-2.

Bob Hunter, Los Angeles Examiner baseball writer, reported that Dark socked 13 of his players, including three veterans, with fines ranging from $250 down to $100. Hunter said Dark then lifted the curfew—normally two hours after a night game on the road — for one night after the Giants lost 4-0 at Los Angeles Monday.

Dark, a devout family man who neither drinks nor smokes, said the $1,950 figure was excessive. He said the fines were slapped on 7 players, not 13, and that it happened 10 days ago in St. Louis.

That's when the Giants, after winning six straight and recalling memories of their little miracle of 1951, had lost three in a row at St. Louis. That dropped them 6½ games behind.

Then they were third. Now they're fourth, eight games behind Cincinnati.

Milwaukee clung to third, two games ahead of the Giants, by beating Philadelphia 5-4 in 14 innings. Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-3.

In the American League, Mickey Mantle hit his 51st home run and the New York Yankees beat Washington 6-1 for a 7½-game bulge. Second-place Detroit lost a 4-1 decision in the completion of Monday's suspended game at Baltimore and the Tigers then dropped their sixth in a row as the Orioles won the regularly scheduled game 1-0. Chicago and Minnesota played a 3-3 tie in a game called after nine innings because of fog. Cleveland beat Boston 9-5, and Kansas City swept a two-night pair from Los Angeles 7-3 and 13-12.

The Giants lost their fourth in a row, third at Los Angeles, when the Dodgers scored four unearned runs in the third inning against Sad Sam Jones (8-8). A two-out error by Orlando Cepeda got the rally going and Duke Snider capped it with a three-run homer. It was the Duke's 381st home run in the majors. Right-hander Stan Williams (12-10) was the winner, checking the Giants on five hits.

The Reds had a 5-0 lead going into the bottom of the ninth, when the Cards broke up Bob Purkey's three-hit shutout with a single by Ken Boyer and doubles by Charlie James and pinch-hitter Carl Sawatski.

Milwaukee came from behind, raring from $250 down to $100.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: For six years I've been married to a man who is married to the television set. We have three TV sets in our home and he keeps them all on so when he has to go from one room to another he won't miss anything.

Last week there was an electrical storm and all the power went off. We had our best conversation since TV was invented. He told me what was happening at the business and I told him things the kids were saying and of town for a couple of years.

I like to watch a few programs but I can't sit there and look at just anything. Please tell me how to get my husband away from the set. Or do I have to pray for another electrical storm? — NO MATCH.

Dear K. L.: Experts in education say it is better for a child to enter school a little late than a little early.

Such children learn to read more rapidly and they get along better with other youngsters. Precocious children often run into trouble because their emotional development lags behind their intellectual development. Putting them in with older children can be a serious mistake.

Keep your bright child occupied at home with stimulating interests and don't feel that the school authorities are being unreasonable. They are doing you—and your child—a greater service than you realize.

The problem is that she has been affectionate in private but when any of her family is around, particularly her children, she refuses to let me even hold her hand. I think this is pretty foolish for a woman her age. I resent not being able to express my real feelings for her when ever I wish. Am I right when I

Altar, Aid Society In First Meet

The first of the monthly evening meetings of Sacred Heart Altar and Aid Society for the year 1961-62 was held Thursday evening, Aug. 31, with the new president, Mrs. Charles Pfeiffer, presiding.

Rev. James Miller, C. P. P. S., the new assistant pastor replacing Rev. John Hanssen who has been assigned to teach in a seminary near Canton, Ohio, was introduced at the covered dish supper which preceded the meeting.

A financial report was made by Mrs. Paul Rialti, financial secretary of the Ladies' Aid to the proceeds from the three main projects during the summer, the Chamber of Commerce Breakfast, State Convention of the Knights of Columbus banquet and the Business-Education Luncheon, which have been turned over to the pastor, the Rev. F. C. Laudick toward the equipping and furnishing of the new convent for the Sister faculty in Sacred Heart School.

A committee composed of Mrs. Irene Hurley, chairman, Mrs. Mary Zoernig, Mrs. Clara Hurley and Mrs. Charles Carroll was appointed to complete furnishings for the front part of the remodeled section of the convent. Returns from religious articles service by Miss Mary Helen Mayer, will go toward furnishing a chapel in the convent.

Mrs. Peter Stohr read an invitation from the Boonville Deanery Council of Catholic Women to which all members of the Altar Society belong to attend the regular quarterly meeting on Sunday, Sept. 10, at 2 p.m. at St. John's Church, Clear Creek, south of Pilot Grove. Part of Sacred Heart's report to be prepared by Miss Mayer, Council's secretary, will be the letter of thanks from

Smithton Seaman Finishes Training

Robert N. Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Bishop Jr. of Route 1, Smithton, completed recruit training recently at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois.

Military ceremonies marked the end of nine weeks of "boot camp" and included a full dress parade and review before high ranking officials and civilian dignitaries.

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

The White House for a spiritual bouquet of prayers offered for the welfare of the nation.

Father Laudick reported an increase of 12 percent in the school's enrollment with more expected to swell the 538 now enrolled in grade school. If this expansion continues, he stated, a new addition must be built. He expressed hope, however, that the next project would be the badly needed renovation of the church.

New teachers and the subjects of mechanical drawing and German have been added this year in the High School. Father Laudick reported.
